PBG incident (SKG)

HPBG is Heavy paintball gun. PCB stands for paint crossbow.

Magickitten was banned recently (about 3 or so days ago). He possessed an orange HPBG and paintballed a good portion of the spawn. He wanted me to ban him. He wanted to quit. I fulfilled his wishes... He is gone, and that is one orange HPBG accounted for. He got it a while back and was unable to give me any information on where he got it from. Also, there are still active PBGS proved by the heavy paintballing of the spawn area.

Active Colors (Freshest):

- Black HPBG
- Brown
- Yellow HPBG
- Orange HPBG (Accounted for)
- Pink (Confiscated)
- Dark Grey

Inactive(recently):

- White
- Red
- Blue PCB (Confiscated)
- Cyan HPBG (Confiscated)

Due to lack of data analysis, i am not confident in whether these are PCBs or HPBGs. I will work on reviewing HPBG and PCB radius and depth to get more detailed data.

Suspected Owners and strength of surety:

Ep1k possessed a black PCB, but it is not in usage. Multiple black PCBs and HPBGs are likely on the loose. A lot of his confiscated HPBGs and PCBS were destroyed by the raid on his new base, if they were there. I do not know what became of his PBGs. I swept his bases, finding nothing.

GIES lacks manpower, and the job it does is difficult. Crimson is good at it though, and I may have to call upon him and others.

*Ep1k's Protected base was grieved with this. They were rich, placing a Solid, thick moonstone cage around the warp. I had to forcibly cut it using worldbuilder commands. Only the former admins had access. I suspect one of the lesser admins did it, specifically a builder/coder, or a very rich mod. Plight is rich enough, but I don't think he had any motive to do it. People were online grieving near spawn, but no one ever seems to have seen them. Odd... There was one within 45m-2h before my arrival at SKG. Bear told me about this. I suppose he is a bit suspect too, but i honestly have no idea here. I will increasingly deploy alts and recruit informants to attempt to pin this down. We must find this. This has gone on for months, i was made an admin to solve this. And I will do my best.
