PBG attacks on Daighrat and other mass grieved sites.

Released on GitHub: <https://github.com/Cetri12/Ceteri-SP>

Today (before 4pm EDT) a griever with a yellow paintball gun grieved around the Daighrat base and some of their unprotected sites. Roads and buildings under construction were hit hard. Daighrat attempted to clean up the mess, but with little success. The griever left a message for Kobold on an inappropriate build. An offensive message, telling kobold to "eat his banana" 🍌. The message griever claims to be Texas069. But no one has seen Texas in weeks. We know he has a black PBG after searching one of his bases, but that's all we know. We don't know for sure if he did it, but he is the most likely culprit. It is also said that he is a hacker. I haven't verified much of this information yet. It was said that Rocco banned him and he got unbanned. Rocco also had his mod taken by Crimson. Crimson suspects him of grieving.

We are chasing ghosts. The griever grieved while sigma and I were online today. This was confirmed by my bloxd replay files. A new spot had appeared where it wasn't before. There were only about 7 people online, including us. But they weren't at the site. Odd. Perhaps Sigma did it, but it would be hard for me to ever know. If he didn't do it, then the situation is far worse than I previously thought. Either one teleported when we left the site temporarily, or they used invisibility. I do have replays, images, and screen recordings. We will continue to collect data and try to figure out who it is. But what we need in the meantime is damage control. I am renaming GRR (Grief Repair and restoration) to PCRF (Paintball Cleanup and Repair Force). Honestly, I might just start paying people to bring in concrete by the stacks. I am doing all I can. More updates are coming in the future.
